

To whom it may concern,

On Friday 9 January 2009, De Baak, one of the largest training and education centers of the Netherlands organized a conference about corporate social responsibility.

Invited were corporate companies who want to understand more about CSR. Besides corporate and financial speakers we invited Mr. Carlo Bakker to share his experience in the field of corporate social responsibility as an entrepreneur in Third World countries.

Carlo's approach and practical case study was appreciated by the audience. His presentation is informal and authentic. His knowledge about social responsibility, his entrepreneurship and personal drive makes him an interesting speaker.

We can therefore recommend Carlo Bakker as a professional keynote speaker for training- and workshopsessions or conferences.

With kind regards,
